A field inspection was conducted on April 23, 1976.

Current conditions on this property do not meet the requirements with paragraph 4 of the Consent Order, C.A. 2404.

The only progress that has been noted since my last visit in 1976, is that earthen material has been applied to the north side slopes. There are a large number of tires. The cover material is questionable.

The main problem at the site could be side slope stabilization. There has been little or no effort on the side slopes as far as compacting and covering. The side slopes into a wooded area at the north end of the site.

Immediate concern is focused on the fact that during the past in recent weeks, oil drums are being pierced and the oil substance, is spread over the fill area on the north side of the site. A letter will be written to Mr. Blosenski to treat accordingly.
